Feedback Sources and Outcome

Principles of Development

Civic Principles:

Future planning for the lands must recognize the waterfront as a strategic asset and ensure the role of the waterfront as a strategic regional asset is maximized over time.

The waterfront can play an important civic role to the core areas of Ingleside and Long Sault for shoppers, residents and employees.

Adopt a long-term master planning approach to development on the waterfront.

Financial Principles:

The highest and best use can generate economic impacts and revenues.

Any public investment should be prioritized by its ability to stimulate economic development rather than cost.

Range of Use Principles:

Waterfront development should complement existing investment and infrastructure.

Development should include distinctive (not duplicate) facilities (city-owned or other) that already exist in and around the sites.

Recommended Phasing

Phase 3

- Include site trails, open space, and multi-use path improvements along the waterfront.
